COMIC CREATORS

Get ready by finding... COLORED PENCILS

Fill the 5 panel storyboard with your own silly story! Draw pictures in each box to explain what is happening. Tip: You can come up with a new story or use your Campfire Tale from Tuesday's prompt!

CAN YOU TELL A STORY IN JUST FIVE PANELS?

The storyboard consists of five numbered panels. Panel 1 is a large rectangle at the top. Panel 2 is a smaller rectangle below panel 1. Panel 3 is a smaller rectangle to the right of panel 2. Panel 4 is a large rectangle at the bottom left. Panel 5 is a tall vertical rectangle on the right side. A 'Title' box is located to the left of panel 1.

This technique we just learned is called Storyboarding! Many professional artists create storyboards to break down the parts of their story in a visual way!

Film Storyboard Artist: A storyboard artist draws out the idea of a script, turning the words into a visual story. They plan out what each scene will look like before the movie's crew goes to film. The storyboard artist has a very important job because the whole film crew will look at their storyboard as a reference while filming.

Animator: Animators use storyboards too! An animator produces multiple images called frames, that when put together in order, create an illusion of movement - this is known as animation. The images can be made up of digital or hand-drawn pictures, models or puppets.
